GRAYLING GIFT — U.S. Congressman Bill Schuette received a Grayling Carlisle paddle from Mayor Sandy Thompson so the young Congressman won't be caught up a creek without a paddle. ## Schuette Discusses Budget, Hanson Hills, and Airport

Congressman Bill Schuette discussed the federal budget, the farm bill, tax reform. and senior citizens' benefits at his town meeting in Grayling on August 8. "I'm pleased that next year's budget will have full Cost of Living Adjustments for senior citizens, and I fought for them," Congressman Schuette said.

"Although I didn't vote for this particular budget, because it is unfair to rural areas and contains erroneous economic assumptions, I have supported other budgets which freeze government spending programs and grant full Social Security COLAs," Congressman Schuette said.

Schuette spoke at the Crawford County Court House for about fifteen minutes before he began to field questions from about 25 people gathered for the meeting.

According to the Congressman, there should be a tax simplification bill sometime 1986 and 1988 elections will mean that we may not have another chance to reform taxes for another four years," Schuette said. "I know there is a lot of opposition to the elimination of state and local tax deductions, and I share this concern," Congressman Schuette said. "I testified before the taxwriting Ways and Means Committee about the effects of the plan on

Congressman Schuette also expressed his support for the Social Security system on its 50th anniversary. "We cannot break the promise that government has made to working Americans all their lives," he said.

He is the only Michigan member of the Agriculture Committee and is very disappointed that the House Agriculture Committee has not completed the 1985 farm bill. "I suggested that we lock the door until we were finished," said Congressman Schuette. "I am working for a farm bill that is sensitive to world market forces, but that also provides for income bridges to farmers."

I'll be having these meetings from time to time in the future," Congressman Schuette said. "I want to hear from the real experts here in Crawford County, and be their pipeline to Washington."

Schuette offered assistance to help with any communication problems concerning Hanson Hills. After the town meeting, he met with Crawford County Transportation Authority members to discuss the Grayling

MPs Use Radar Guns To Check Military Traffic

By Spec. 4 Thomas D. Grandy

In an attempt to improve the safety of military vehicles on local highways, members of the Ohio National Guards 838th Military Police Company from Youngstown, Ohio, stationed at Camp Grayling for their two-week Annual Training period, are using a radar speed gun to monitor mobile ac-

The maximum speed of a military vehicle on hard stand road is 45 M.P.H. simply because the tires on the vehicles were designed for off-road activity, not for highspeed travel on paved roads. With the help of the radar gun, borrowed from the Crawford County Sheriff's Department, the post Military Police can ensure that the speed limit is enforced.

"There was no speed problem to start with," said Lt. Col. Walter M. Duzzny, State Provost Marshall for Ohio. "The use of the radar unit is more of a deterrent to make sure that one doesn't develop. So far the military personnel have been receptive to it, and have respected its being there."

"We are not imposing our speed detecting on civilian vehicles in any way," said Sgt. Harold P. Miller, a member of the 838th Military Police Company. "It is just a tool to help us monitor the speed of our vehicles only. Many of the guardmembers here at Camp Grayling do not drive military vehicles everyday and therefore believe that the 55 M.P.H. speed limit applies to them also. We are here to inform the ones that are not aware of it that our speed limit is 45 M.P.H."

If a military vehicle is caught speeding by the Military Police here at Camp Grayling, no citation is issued. Instead, they are informed of the speed limit and given a written warning that is passed on through their chain of command.

"The radar unit is set up during peak hours of training in designated areas where speeding is most frequent," said Sgt. Miller. "In any given two-hour time frame we may stop twenty to twenty-five vehicles. But once the word gets around that we are there, the number of offenders seems to decrease."

"We feel we have impacted significantly on military personnel with the utilization of a training tool that has brought them more of an awareness of how fast they are actually going," said Lt. Col. Duzzny. "It is a matter of safety that minimizes, if not eliminates the number of speed-related accidents involving military vehicles."

County Asks Canoe Liveries Help With Acquiring Park Site

The county is going to ask AuSable river cance liveries to help in acquiring a 14.4 acre park site on the mainstream.

At least eight canoe liveries in the Grayling area will be asked to help raise $2000 to tie up the property until Kammer Land Trust funds are available to buy it.

The parcel, just downstream from Wakeley Bridge, is known as Wakeley Park and is used by canoers and others for picnics and a park area.

Consumers Powers leases the land to the county and the company is offering a chance to buy the property for $27,500 plus $1,500 for the cost of an appraisal and survey. They're asking the county for a $2000 earnest payment, which will pay for the appraisal and survey with the balance applied to the purchase price.

Crawford County Board of Commissioners chairwoman, Mary Harland, said at their August 6th meeting the county doesn't have the $2000 right now. Commissioner Jeannette Kitchen suggested the county ask the canoe liveries to help raise the $2000. The county is hoping the rest of the purchase price could be funded through Kammer Land Trust money. Although the county already applied to that fund for money to buy Wakeley Park, it won't be until late 1986 before the county knows if their application for money is accepted. Kitchen said if the liveries could help come up with $2000, it would buy some time and tie up the property so Consumers Power doesn't sell it to the state.

The property has 580 feet of river frontage and the county has 60 days to respond to Consumers' offer.

Lovells Township Recall Election Set for Oct. 8

An election to recall the entire Lovells Township Board will be held Tuesday,

The ballot will offer a yes or no question for each board member: Shall (name of board member) be recalled from the office of (office held)?

The charges for the recall as they appeared on the recall petitions will be listed for each board member on the ballot. Each board member will have the opportunity to place up to 200 words on the ballot defending his or her actions.

The polling place will be the Lovells Township Hall from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. The county clerk will oversee the election as the Lovells Township Board members can not be involved in the election process. Absentee ballots will be issued through the clerk's office at the county courthouse.

A special elections scheduling committee of Jerry Morford, representing the city of Grayling, Mary Allen, representing the school district, and Elizabeth Wieland, representing the county, met August 9th to set the election date. The township representative Monica Stephan-Ashton was absent due to a conflict involving Grayling Township business.

Both county and Lovells Township officials were unable to estimate the cost of the special election because most township issues are usually placed with regularly scheduled elections.

VanDeVen Resigns from GRA, New At-Large Member Needed

At the last regular meeting of the Grayling Recreation Authority, the Board accepted the resignation of Marty Van-DeVen as Chairman. The motion was passed with a statement of deep regret and an emotional heartfelt expression of gratitude to Marty for his contributions and efforts for the sake of Hanson Hills Park. Reasons for the resignation were personal.

Election of officers were held and the new officers were elected by unanimous ballot. Pauline Petrosky, Chairman; Nick Shuraleff, Vice-Chairman; Beth Wieland, Treasurer; and Monica Ashton, Secretary, will serve the Grayling Recreation Authority for the remainder fiscal year. Meetings were set to be held on the third Tuesday of every month.

Marty VanDeVen was the Member-At-Large participant on the Grayling Recreation Authority Board. His resignation vacates a position on the Board. The Board requests that any citizen interested in skiing and/or other activities held at the park submit an application to Pauline Petrosky, P.O. Box 361, Grayling, Mi. 49738. The applicant that is accepted will be notified prior to the September 17th

The Board hopes that everyone will take the time to stop out at the Park. There is a new playgrounmd hand-built from scratch by the Camp Shawono crew, and the ground and buildings are being shined and polished for the upcoming County Fair.

From Our Corner...

This is the second verse...

Let me tell you about our granddaughters...

If you happened to read this portion of the Avalanche last week you will remember that we just happened to remark that T.J. and Stefany would be visiting us this week...if you didn't know that, it really doesn't matter that much...

Because, we're going to tell you this week...grandma Dyke brought the girls over Sunday from Elk Rapids where they had spent last week, and then Toni returned with her until Wednesday...

Grandma Madsen has the happy task of entertaining the girls during the day but, she told me everything was planned, that is if the girls go for it...

It always was good to be able to run over to Traverse City for a weekend...that way you noticed how the girls were growing up...Sunday was different...when they came in the house I could hardly believe my eyes, T.J. lacks only about 4 inches of being as tall as Thelma...and she is only 11...

This is certainly going to be a different week...we normally have just a regular sandwich, maybe cheese or cold meat, banana, milk for lunch, and let it go...after talking with Toni Sunday, I really don't know what to expect...she told me what T.J. likes, Stefany doesn't like...and what Stefany likes, T.J. doesn't...the problem is, I don't think grandma is going to fix a gourmet lunch each day...

Another big event happened when the girls arrived Sunday, they had birthday presents for their mom, just a day early, but they wanted Toni to open them before she left with grandma Dyke...

That was just a lead up to something we mentioned last week, that we didn't normally wish persons happy birthday in our corner...we were informed by our bride, that we had better make one more exception...dutifully, we make one more exception...so, happy four zero, to our Buckeye gal, from the Michigander...

An idle thought...with all this happiness of having our gals around it just dawned on us that they have to go back home...now I don't even care about driving to Roscommon on a sunny day that takes about 15 minutes, let alone a trip that takes something like seven hours...

But then, when you get to our vintage, you would drive anywhere to make the gals happy...even if its just down to Ohio...by next Sunday, we'll be wishing they were still here...

I really don't know how to handle the Editor's Mailbox for what the writer has to do to have their letter published...we have numerously put in our corner of what is expected from us to the writers...to no avail, we receive letters just about every day that we cannot publish...

One more time we will run through the regulations that we need even before we consider if the letter may be libelous...first, and foremost is the signature of the writer, next we have to know their address and phone number, to even be considered for publication...even with all this information, if we think is may be slanderous or libelous it is our prerogative not to print the letter...

What brought this about is that we received a letter last week in a plain envelope, with the writers name, with no address or phone number, which we need to contact for its authenticity, and/or if it is just a kook letter...the letter was a complaint about the helicopters...until we know, the letter will not be published...

A second idle thought...we have to wonder if anyone reads this turkey, if they do, they don't pay attention to what they read...have a conviction? stand up and be counted, don't hide behind the Editor's Mailbox...

With that we will tell T.J. and Stefany goodnight at home tonight, and to Amber goodnight out in Nevada...and to anyone who may have read this trivial, have a nice weekend...Crawford County's

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

LINCOLN/SLAVERY/ ABORTION

The spiritual and moral truth spoken by President Abraham Lincoln against slavery, is just as true today against abortion. Speaking of the Civil War caused by slavery, Lincoln said, "...the blood of this war, like the blood of Abel, is crying to Heaven..." (Speech in the U.S. House of Representatives, January 12, 1848.) If Genesis 4:10 could be used in in reference to those who died to free 4 million black slaves, how much more could it be used concerning the innocent blood of 16 million aborted babies? This baby blood is human by scientific analysis, and distinct from the mother. This baby blood will cry out to God for judgment. Lincoln said, "Slavery is found in the selfishness of man's nature - opposition to it is his love of justice." Today, we should say, Abortion is found in the selfishness of woman's nature (Woman's Rights) - opposition to it is our love of justice.

Lincoln said, "In our greedy chase to make profit of the negro, let us beware lest we cancel and tear in pieces even the white man's charter of freedom." Today we should say, In our greedy chase to make profit of aborted babies, let us beware lest we cancel and tear in pieces the charter of freedom for all human beings in America. Lincoln spoke about "squatter sovereignty" or "popular sovereignty" and "sacred right of self-government" as another argument to defend slavery. Lincoln said this means, "That if any one man choose to enslave another, no third man shall be allowed to object." Today, we hear the same argument, if a woman wants to kill her baby, it is not the business of any other third person. "Popular sovereignty" to make human slaves in the 19th century, is today human babies.

"Women's Rights" to kill

Lincoln reminded the people that the Dred Scott decision of 1854 removed "the question of a negro's freedom" from the protection of government law. The Roe vs. Wade decision of 1973 removed the unborn baby's life from the protection of government law. Both lost all legal rights as human beings by Supreme Court deicisions. If color, age, residence, or intelligence could render any class of humans to be non-persons under the law, then all of us are threatened with a similar fate as our culture changes.

"done all in his power to reduce the whole question of slavery to one of a mere right of property." Today, we hear the same argument, that an unborn baby is part of the mother's body, and is therefore her property to either kill or let live. Lincoln said that the only thing that would please the South would be to "cease to call slavery wrong, and join them in calling it right. And this must be done thoroughly - done in acts as well as in words. Silence will not be tolerated - we must place ourselves avowedly with them." Today, the only thing which will satisify the proabortion crowd is for us to say abortion is not murder, or the willful taking of an innocent human life. We must also prove this by killing our babies. The abortionists will Lincoln said, "I am naturally antislavery. If slavery is not wrong, nothing is wrong." Today, we should say, I am naturally antiabortion. If abortion is not wrong, nothing is wrong." If it is morally wrong to enslave any human being, how much more is it morally wrong to murder any human being? Exodus 21:22, 23.

The only criteria for participation in RSVP, is that a person be 60 years of age or older. If you are interested, please come in or call us at 348-8322 or 348-4341.

That's what Rep. Silvio Conte 1/2 of Massachusetts and some congressional budget-watchers were asking the other day, as the House approved a bill to spend more than $1.3 billion to cover congressional operations for the next year.

Conte noted that Congress now employs 72 doorkeepers, and that's 30 more than when he first went to Washington in 1959.

"I have gone around and checked the House and Senate and there isn't one additional door," Conte said, as he strived to cut into the 31,000-member Capitol Hill

HE DIDN'T make out too well in trimming doorkeeper jobs, but he did succeed in lopping 10 garage attendant positions off the payroll-not through discharge, but rather through attrition, or not filling jobs once they become open. That 10-job reduction will save about $230,000-or about $23,000 a job—which is a lot of money for a garage attendant.

Conte said there are so many garage attendants around that he feared he would run over one some morning on his way to work. He also claimed that the size of the congressional police force — which is 2.3 officers for each member of Congress makes him feel something like a hostage.

Elevator operators for automatic elevators also came under fire in the congressional debate, and Rep. Hank Brown of Colorado tried to trim their number, claiming "these jobs are utterly useless" in the age of electronic elevators. But the elevator operator jobs stayed.

IT MAKES you wonder what's really going down in the United States Capitol. where they have 2.3 police officers for each member of Congress...where they insist on employing operators on automatic elevators...where they cost out garage attendant jobs at $23,000 each.

Keep in mind that the Congress is the final voice on the size of government spending in all fields. When you see the way Congress handles its own operational budget, it becomes a bit clearer why the government runs such hugh deficits year after year.

But after all, it's only tax money. There's always plenty more where that came from. And it all comes from the taxpayers' pockets.

THE CONGRESSIONAL funding bill also contained another item about which we will hear quite a bit more during the next election campaign, I predict.

The measure included funds for operation of the Library of Congress, which maintains a Braille printing service for the sightless and sightimpaired.

It seems the program, run by the Library of Congress, translates popular magazines into Braille and distributes them to the blind at no charge. Playboy magazine has been one of those translated.

SUPPORTERS of cutting off the Playboy funds argued that the federal government should not appear to sanction promotion of sex-oriented magazines. Those who wanted to continue the program responded that of the 37 magazines in the program, only seven were requested more often than Playboy; besides, they added, pictures were not included in the special edition.

Dropping Playboy from the program will save about $103,000.

Good enough, as far as I'm concerned. But I would guess we'll hear more about the Playboy vote in the next campaign, as the 193 who voted for federal funds to provide Braille bunnies will be asked by their campaign opponents to justify their

This is old country. Chances are the stones on the AuSable River bottom are close to 10,000. The water is older. A good many generations of men, women, and children lived close enough to the river to call it part of their bodies. The smells you pick up on the river early in the morning are the same smells of hundreds of years ago. There is the smell of Cedar, the smell of clay mixing with cold water, the smell of swamps and Aspen. There is a persistence and a spirit in the river that has somehow worked itself into the sensitivity of a good many locals.

No-Kill is more than a biological issue. It demands to be treated as an issue of blood, an issue of heritage, an issue of old family histories and wisdom passed down, re-told. It is an issue of emotion and spirit. There is some mentality down below us which attempts to reduce local sentiment to selfishness. We are asked to believe that local fisherman are merely meat hunters, spear fishermen, unsophisticated "primitives" who care little for the biological improvement of the AuSable.

The arguments in support of No-Kill regulations revolve around big fish and those who fish for trophies. The arguments revolve around releasing fish so that other anglers may catch them. For many years I have supported No-Kill fishing, not by regulation, but as a matter of conscience. I release most of the fish I catch, keeping only those which have been injured in what most of us ought to sheepishly refer to as "Sport".

When I listen to downstate philosophy and remember the fishing clubs glutted on the weekends, I go into maniac narcosis. All you boys with too many tax shelters need bloodtests—show me some river water in that plasma and maybe someone will listen.

Right now, I'll give my ear to the kind of wisdom coming from people like Pete Stephan, someone born with river water in his body. He came out breathing river. If the ghosts of his family and the ghosts of every local who has relatives who held the river inside them were to line up along the banks and you had to look into them, show them you had the river spirit inside your veins in order to slide in, then you'd know who belongs here and who doesn't. You'd find out that bigcity chemicals don't mix with AuSable branch water. Nutrition

Immunization Month Set For August

The Crawford County Health Department is joining Governor James J. Blanchard, the State Health department and all other departments health throughout Michigan to mark Immunization Month.

The Governor declared August Immunization Action Month and local and state health officials bring a change of emphasis to the attention of our residents.

Theme for the month, PROTECT, IMMUNIZE, SHOTS ARE EVERYONE, indicates that more than our school children need munizations.

Missed during the big immunization push in 1979-80 were many of our children who are now attending college.

An added emphasis is also upon adult immunizations. We all need tetanus boosters every 10 years. And people over 60 years of age are urged to have influenza shots this

According to Dr. Gordon Rady, M.D., Medical Director, we need continuous efforts to see that all children entering school are protected against measles, mumrubella, tetanus. diphtheria, whooping cough and polio. College students should check their immunization status before classes especially measles and rubella. And all older persons and those with chronic diseases are urged to have protection against flu this year.

"Call your doctor or the Crawford County Health Department at 348-2841 ext. 258 about your shots," urges Dr. Rady. "Remember, Shots are for Everyone!"

Governor Asks for Guidance On Cutting Use of Toxic Materials

The Toxic Substance Control Commission has been asked by Governor James Blanchard to find ways Michigan consumers, farmers, and businesses can cut their use of hazardous materials.

In a letter to the commission, Blanchard said the state should look at a new way of controlling toxic substances by limiting their upfront use.

Environmental protection "traditionally focused on controlling emissions, releases, and discharges of hazardous materials. While this approach has provided many benefits, I believe that a more efficient and prudent policy may be found in promoting alternatives to the use of hazardous materials."

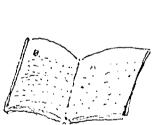

He called on the commission to develop a report by the end of the year that would outline a policy for cutting the use of toxic materials by industry, business, agriculture and consumers, and recommend methods for implementing the policy.

The report, Blanchard said, should be made "in a spirit of cooperation" with hazardous material users and generators.

"Enceuraging the reduction of hazardous materials at the source, rather than controlling them at their point of release into the environment, is the next frontier for environmental protection policy," the

Dr. Hamburg's clinic will be located on M-55 just east of Owens Road. The clinic is expected to be open by late August, Dr. Hamburg was born in San Diego, California and grew up in Idaho. She attended Bradley University in Illinois where she received her Bachelor of Science Degree in 1975. In 1979 she graduated from the University of Hawaii: John A. Burns School of Medicine. She trained in family practice for one year at Kaiser-Permanente Foundation Hospital in Honolulu. She then chose surgery as her professional goal. She has qualified to take her surgical board certification examina-

"I'm looking forward to my practice and working with people in Roscommon County," she said. Dr. Hamburg considers herself a country person and loves animals. She already has two horses at her home in Roscommon and is expecting to purchase more.

RSM, president and chief executive officer, Mercy Hospital, Grayling, said "we are very pleased to have a physician of Dr. Hamburg's experience in Houghton Lake. There has been a shortage of physicians in that area for many years, it is our hope we can help alleviate this problem with the clinic. We hope to add additional physicians and services as the needs in the area expand."

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick Conservation Officer

Each year members of the public show up at DNR offices, Conservation Officer's doorsteps, in restaurants or practically any place with a fish that appears to be diseased. They want to know what's wrong with the fish, if it's edible, and what they should do with it. More often than not, the fish are infested with little black spots. The problem, therefore, is referred to as "Black Spot". The black spots are actually pigmented cysts of larval trematodes (trematodes, or flukes, are parasitic flatworms) which mature in fish eating birds - in this case kingfishers.

Fish such as rock bass, sunfish, bluegills, bass, pike, perch, minnows, etc., may be heavily infested, but the parasites do relatively little damage in most cases and do not obviously affect growth or longevity of the fish, except in massive infestation of young fish.

These trematodes are incapable of infesting man, and even a heavily infested fish is safe to eat. It may be more aesthetically pleasing to skin a very heavily infested fish before eating. In any case, cooking kills the parasites.

I would like to thank Dr. Leonard Allison, PhD. former fish pathologist at the old Grayling Fish Hatchery for making his report ("Manual of Common Diseases, Parasites and Anomalies of Michigan Fishes", DNR, available for my use. I hope to use more information from this publication in the future.

A salve made with lard and a decoction of white oak bark, apple tree bark, and witch hazel, has been found a valuable application to piles. John King, M.D. 1872.

Three or four leaves of the Ash tree taken in wine each morning from time to time do make those lean that are fat, and keep them from feeding that begin to wax fat. "The Herball or General Histories of Plants", John Gerarde, 1636.

Wood ashes were very much used in folk practice (American Folk Medicine). The following are recipes used by pioneer and frontier folk living in remote areas of the new world.

Cuts: Dry wood ashes applied immediately will stop the bleeding and heal. Bind ashes on with gauze. Wood ashes will heal an old sore that has become infected also. The ashes must be of good wood - not old rotten stuff. Sift ashes to eliminate charcoal.

Poison ivy or poison oak: A strong lye made of wood ashes gives instant relief. The dry ashes may be applied with equal good results.

Chronic diarrhea: Take hard wood ashes 3 tbs, cider vinegar 3 tbs; hot water, enough to cover; stir it well, and let it settle. Give 1 tsp of the liquid every little while.

GHS Alumni Nostalgia

-From this class of '30, there are 15 to celebrate the 55th anniversay of graduation. Libby Matson, Stockton, Ca., was here in Grayling last month, getting an early start looking up her friends. And, for you young grads, 55 years go by in a hurry! So does 6 years. Spence Olsen, '79 was our Roy O. Milnes Award student. The Avalanche had a picture of him on duty in the Honduras. Safe trip home, Skip.

For the Class of '25, there are 16 out of 26 to observe the 60th. It was the second largest class to date. So sad that class pictures were not taken then. Here are some familiar names...Astrid Ahman Richardson, Lucilda Collen Brown, Helen Granger Lamm, Eva Hendrickson Olin, Emma Hendrickson Bartell, Emma Hum Hood, Sigurd Johnson, Elvira Johnson Borchers, Cora King Smith, Stanley Matson, Ruth McNeven Jones, Bertha Merritt Jaggers, Louise Sorenson Hodgins, Erma Sjoholm Gompers, Maude Taylor Greenbury, Lillian Ziebell Yuill. We have lost addresses for Bertha and Erma. If someone out there has info for me, call 348-8260 after 6. Thanks.

Class of '20 has 4 members out of 7 to observe their 65th.

We have had a bit of a snag this year on our letters. We have a lot of local addresses that are changed and were returned to us, more than ever before. It really is helpful to us if we are notified at the Office, it means you want to hear from us, we surely make an effort to send you our news letter. So, for some of you, the date of G.H.S. Alumni Homecoming is Saturday, September 7. Another picture next week. Clara Sorenson, Membership Secretary.

Margaret Cassidy Jones, Marshall Holliday, Norma Johnson Madill, Margrethe Neilsen. Our sincere congratulations to these G.H.S. Alumni.

Capitol Commentary

By Sen. Connie Binsfeld

If you can't say the word "sesquicentennial" yet, don't worry - you've got two years to work on it.

In 1987, Michigan will celebrate its 150th, or sesquicentennial, birthday. And to make that year the best ever, the Legislature has created the Michigan Sesquicentennial Commission. Five former governors -Murray D. VanWagoner, John Swainson, George Romney, William Milliken and former Chief Justice G. Mennen Williams — as well as the current governor have been named as Honorary Chairman of the panel.

The commission, made up of 31 Michiganians from a vareity of backgrounds and with a variety of interests, is charged with planning festivities for the year-long gala. It's going to be more than ice cream socials and Main Street parades, though. Their mission is to involve as many groups and communities as possible,

Siding with not motivate communities and businesses to inaugurate new programs and attractions, and provide long-term benefits such as improvements to historical properties, a more positive image for Michigan and more cooperative state-local and public sector-provide sector relations. This occasion is a perfect opportunity to showcase

Michigan's assets. With natural resources calling tourists from around the country and around the globe, a high-tech sophisticated manufacturing base, and an agricultural industry more bountiful and productive than almost any other -Michigan's sesquicentennial is a chance to strut our stuff.

Our guest for statehood began in 1835, when residents of the Territory of Michigan wrote the first state Constitution, voted in its first state election and asked admission to the Union. After two years of fighting over territorial boundaries, the conflict was resolved by giving up Toledo in return for the western Upper Peninsula. Michigan became the 26th state on January 26, 1837.

One of the themes for the sesquicentennial celebration is "Past as Prologue." A 150th birthday is a time to reflect on the past, keeping an eye on a future full of promise and hope. If the next 150 years are anything like the first 150 years, that future will live up to all our expectations.

If you would like information on upcoming events, or have suggestions for activities, feel free to contact the Sesquicentennial Office in Lansing by calling (517) 482-1987 or writing to the Michigan Dept. of State, Lansing, Michigan, 48918.

Editor's Mailbox

To the Editor:

With due respect to each and every qualified elector of Lovells Township, we, the present Township Board, would like to present to you our side of the story relative to the current, very disturbing recall situation happening in this once tight knit community.

At the annual township meeting, March, 1984, while under the reign of the preceding Township Board, those taxpayers in attendance, did vote in favor of building offices at the present Township Hall site. This primarily came about due to pressures put upon the township by the State to house all township records at one locality and recommended that the homes of the various persons holding a township office be brought up to code with ramps, rails, etc. for handicapped per-NOT sons.

DESIRABLE. By the March, 1985, annual meeting, we the present board, realized funds on hand sufficient to build those offices, plus bathrooms on the back side of the firehall. Those bathrooms were also proposed by the preceeding board two years ago but never did materialize because that board found it difficult to obtain bids from any builder, local or otherwise.

We recommended to the attending taxpayers at the March, 1985, meeting to divide the present townhall with a partition beginning where a previous addition was made. However, at that time too many voiced the opinion that this idea would make the hall too small for the many community events held in the townhall. Others felt the present townhall basement would adequate for offices, even though it is approximately 15' x 35' with 5½ foot ceilings. It is very dark and very damp and an elevator system would have to be installed to meet the handicap code. One prominent citizen, now serving on the Crawford-AuSable School Board, recommended doing away with the present library and use that room for an office. The library is a branch of the Crawford County Library and is housed in the townhall. We felt any and all recommendations made were not too practical. We DID NOT have a bid at that March, 1985, meeting, but we did feel we must pursue getting of the people did want them. Those instigating the current recall are persons who did not get their candidates elected in the August primary election in 1984. At that time, two of the losing candidates cost taxpayers money to have a recount, to prove to themselves that they really did lose by the number of votes already counted. Undaunted by all this, one man who lost still chose to run on a "sticker" in the November, 1984, election. To no avail.

offices because the majority

Then May 14, 1985, persons who supported the losers in the last election, presented the present Township Board with an unsigned ultimatum, requesting we five board members resign or face a recall situation. Charges on said ultimatum were entirely different than those stated on the now recorded recall petitions. We honestly feel the addition of offices and bathrooms are a major improvement and they ARE PAID FOR, regardless of what some of you were told to encourage you to sign those recall petitions against us. Your TAXES WILL NOT GO UP in order to pay for them. We have also heard that some of you were told that if you signed one petition you must sign all five of them. Some were even told that the petition was to recall a member of the Board of Review. Others who asked to see the petitions were told that they could not see them unless they agreed to sign them. Who knows what other false statements were told to get signatures. A wife of one of the circulators told Supervisor Jewell that she had put arsenic in his coffee and he had about five minutes to live. Whether in jest or not,

these things are very disturbing and unnecessary.

Some feel the preceding supervisor might have qualified at times for recall. We respect the fact that he was not and do feel that most people do wish to get along most of the time. We did inherit some of our problems from the previous board, and we are working to overcome them. We are a conscientious board, working in the best interest of the taxpayer. Please consider, you now have one central mailing address and one place to go to do township business rather than having to drive here and there to the various homes of those in office. All records are now locked under one roof, and we have regular office hours for your convenience. Our attorney tells us we have done nothing illegal. We feel we spent your tax dollars wisely to benefit EVERYONE, not just a few. However, we do find it difficult to justify our tax dollars being spent on the inevitable recall election. How many are going to benefit by that expense? Do these few people want the present board out so they might take over? We feel if we hadn't built the much needed offices, those few agitators would have found other reasons to charge us with. We say "the inevitable recall election" because we refused to resign and plan to fight this recall to the bitter end.

Dear Mr. Madsen,

On a trip to your area the last weekend in July I was overwhelmed by the response of your people to someone in distress. I was camping with a group of horsemen at the Four Mile Camp for the Grayling to Luzerne Competitive Trail Ride. Late Friday evening my horse released himself from our picket lines and wandered off. I spent the entire night combing the off-road two tracks in the area around Four Mile, Stephan Lake and M-72 looking for tracks. Not finding him I then alerted the Sheriff's Depar-

I continued my search the next day on foot, following up on any reports the Sheriff's Dept. got as to his whereabouts. The people in the area were helpful, contributing good wishes if not information. By midday I was growing more concerned and hired a small plane to go up and look around. This attempt proved futile as we could not spot him. As we were coming down and I was giving up, the National Guard was going out with their helicopters. They had evidently heard our transmissions and said they would keep an eye out for him. Within a short time they had spotted him and managed to lead me right to him. He was in extremely wooded area across the highway near the river. Luckily, he was just fine and a sight for sore eyes to his very exhausted distressed owner.

I do quite a lot of traveling and am often disappointed by the attitude of people in tourist areas. I have purchased property in the mountains of Montana because "the people are different out there" and the pace is slower. However, I now have hope that there are areas left in Michigan where the people are still caring and willing to help. It is still hard for me to believe how good everyone was even though it involved just a lost animal and not a lost child. You should be very proud of your community. I hope it always remains the same and doesn't let tourism affect it negatively as it has in so many other areas in Michigan.

There are a few people in particular that I would like to extend my thanks to. One of the most important being Mrs. Harland and her family on M-72. She made several phone calls for me, putting me in touch with the airport and finding a pilot, alerting the radio station, driving to the campground to advise my friends of my status and finally getting someone to bring a trailer when they

I cannot thank her enough. Also instrumental in helping me find my horse was Mr. & Mrs. David Fredrick. We met at the airport and they led me around the parade route and out to where the Guard had spotted him and walked through the woods with me until we caught him. They also made a trip to the campground to advise my friends that we were on our way back.

were through with their ride.

Thanks to George Maroney for taking his plane up even though he had a family affair to go to, and to Dave Boerma from the Sheriff's Dept. for his help during the night, and the CCSD dispatchers who put up with all of my frequent and frantic calls. Thanks also to all of the many people that offered good wishes and drinks of water along my way. They know who they are.

Last but not least, thanks to the National Guard. I don't fully understand their iob in a community but without their helicopter pilots taking the time to look for my horse, he may have not been found before he or someone had been hurt.

Looking forward to my next trip to Grayling. If it is for next years ride, I assure everyone that my horse will be securely enclosed.

Best wishes to your community for a prosperous season.

> Sincerely, Charmaine K. Kern

August 6,1985 Dear Whitey:

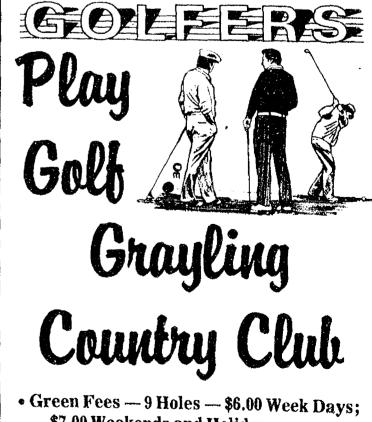

Home is where the heart is, where hospitality is, and where the best of life is. I write this because I once lived in Grayling and thought the grass was greener on the other side of the fence. I find I must return to friends, to hospitality, to peace just to keep my life under composure. I think it is a shame that home folk often neglect the beauty of their own surroundings. Grayling has one of the finest Hospitality Houses in the state. Steve & Phyllis have gone out of their way to accommodate persons that needed to feel "at home" away from home. I wonder how many Grayling folk have visited and used the Hospitality House's fine services. The beautiful setting of the open outdoor patio is delightful. God has given us so many choices: Time to./ smell the flowers, time to enjoy friends, time to enjoy people we don't even know, time to live. Life is never wasted - no matter how long we live. The waste is when we don't give of ourselves to other people. Hospitality and friendship - qualities of good people. To Steve & Phyllis for being there, being a friend, and providing a beautiful place to relax. Also to Whitey for sending me the Avalanche to my home at Whitmore Lake. Sandra Taylor

The Paint and Paper Palace downtown is now a soft cream color with dark trim and the Bob Cinciala home has new pale yellow siding with brown trim and a new front steps. Our neighbors, the Gravelyns, always have flowers and mowed lawn. Our whole neighborhood is well-kept. Since we frequently travel

State Street, we see the flowers at Carlisle's Canoe Livery, owned by the Mike Lovelys. And once again we'd like to mention the seniors who live in the Housing Complex. It has always been well-kept and lots of flowers. Down on Peninsular an evening stroll gave us a peek into Jerry McClain's neat back yard and some bright nasturtiums in the Tom Brown's planter. A big surprise was the sidewalk we found all the way to Ionia, now completely hidden by trees and grass.

Ask Bill Schuette

Dear Congressman Bill Schuette,

I would like to remind you of your promise to not touch the Cost of Living Adjustments in Social Security. The Senate is considering freezing it again. This is the most important issue to me. Sincerely,

Grayling, Michigan

Dear B.J.,

Thank you for writing me. Your concerns are timely as we celebrate the 50th anniversary of Social Security on August 14th. I am pleased to report that during debate on next year's budget, I voted for full Social Security Cost of Living Adjustments. The budget recently passed by the Congress requires full COLAs for senior citizens, and though I did not support this budget because of its cuts in agriculture, I fought for COLAs and was very pleased to see them included.

Social Security was designed to prevent the widespread economic suffering that plagued countless older citizens during the Great Depression. The Social Security system provides benefits to over 36 million people, more than one person in seven.

Social Security has grown to provide for the health care needs of senior citizens as well. Realizing that health care costs fall mostly heavily upon retirees, who are often least able to pay, Congress created the Medicare program in 1966.

Since the elderly are vulnerable to inflationary increases in the prices of consumer goods, Social Security benefits have been adjusted periodically since 1972 to offset the rising cost of living. I know how important these COLAs are to senior citizens, and that's why I have voted for them.

CENTER

I am especially glad that on its fiftieth anniversary, the Social Security system is on a sound financial basis, thanks to a bipartisan compromise forged by President Reagan and congressional leaders. This compromise restored the stability to the Social Security system both in the short run, and in the long-term future.

improvement of Health Care

For 32-County Region Underway

In October, 1984, a federal grant for $860,000 was awarded to Michigan State University for the purpose of developing incentives to attract and retain health care professionals and support expansion of health care education in medically underserved areas.

Now, in its planning year, the Northern Michigan Area Health Education Center (AHEC) is preparing to contact communities in the target region (from Saginaw county north to Cheboygan county, and the tip of the "Thumb"), in order to establish health and medical education needs.

By linking the resources of approximately sixteen university medical and health professions education centers. Northern Michigan AHEC will establish a network of health related institutions to provide educational services to students and practitioners in the medical fields and ultimately improve delivery Other of health care. educational institutions involved in this effort are: University of Michigan, Ferris State, Saginaw College, Valley State

Cong. Davis to Speak at Gaylord

Robert W. Davis, U.S. Representative for the 11th District of Michigan since 1979 (covering northern lower Michigan and the eastern Upper Peninsula) will address the Northern Michigan Health Systems Agency Board of Directors at its next meeting, August 21, at 10:00 a.m. at the Chalet Centre in Gaylord. The Agency's Board is made up of health service providers and consumers representing the residents of 18 counties in northern Michigan and is charged with developing long-term plans for orderly growth of the health system as well as review of capital expenditures in the region as part of the Certificate of Need process in the State of Michigan.

Representative Davis' address, "Washington Focus of the Health Scene" is expected to provide insights into Congressional thinking about some of the major issues in health care today including the soaring costs of health care, competitive versus regulatory models of the health system, and the crisis in Medicare and Social Security, among others. All members of the public are invited to attend the meeting, gather insights, and meet and exchange views with the Congressman.

Youth Service Bureau

The Youth Service Bureau Recreation week started off with rain on Monday which drowned out our swimming at Pine Knoll - recreation was cancelled.

Tuesday our (A) group went to Hartwick Pines for hiking and a picnic, we also played a tough game of softball.

On Wednesday we went swimming at Pine Knoll and also went and ate lunch at the City Park.

Thursday the youths enjoyed playing on the playground equipment at the elementary school. After, they took a hike through the woods down to the river and the kids enjoyed, what started out as wading but ended up to be swimming!

Next weeks activities are as follows:

Mon., (B) group goes on a National Guard Camp Tour. Tuesday - (A) group goes to Call of the Wild Museum (Gaylord).

Wednesday - (B) group will be going camping at Perry Lake in Mio. Drop-off will be at 10:00 a.m. and pickup will be at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday.

Thursday there will be no activity for the (A) group. Once again we would like to thank Lary Gust of Pine Knoll. We would like to also thank the Knights of Columbus for the circus tickets.

The Youth Service Bureau is a Crawford County United Way supported agency.
